Cultural Diversity – behind the Mask

Throughout society, we hide many things behind a mask. Today we were given the opportunity to look deeper into this by making and creating our very masks followed by an intercultural evening with our peers.

Whilst in groups we worked alongside others from our different countries in preparing and making the masks. We gained confidence in each other, a sense of belonging and a time to reflect whilst relaxing and enjoying the experience.

Later on, during the evening we took part in a night of song and dance and presentations and talks from all of the participating countries. There was a time to bring and share food, local beverages and share stories.

What has today taught us Simple, although many of our countries come from a Masked historical background, we can still embrace them by sharing with those around us.
